

How to Run a Scandisk

1. Open My Computer (located on the desktop or in the start menu). Right mouse click over the Local Disk C: and select Properties. Then select the Tools tab. Then click Check Now.

2. Now check off the two boxes. Click start. You will then get an error message telling you that the PC has to be rebooted to run the scan disk. Click Yes.

3. Restart your PC. The scan disk will run automatically before windows starts. This can take awhile so it is best to start it and let it run overnight.

4. You are finished.
